

The Surfer's Journal Volume 1, 50 Years of Surfing on Film, Profiles: Bud Browne, John Severson, Greg Noll (VHS)

Description

Bud Browne, John Severson, Greg Noll From Bud Browne's pioneering films of the Makaha Point Surf in the late 1940s to the punk-bash videographers of the 90s, the complete four-volume set transports the viewer along a fascinating, fifty year surf cinema timeline. Written by acclaimed surf historian and journalist Matt Warshaw, each volume presents rarely seen footage from the personal libraries of the most significant surf filmmakers of all-time. The Journal's privileged access to this footage, along with the filmer's own candid, behind-the-scenes commentaries and recollections of their cult hero-surf stars turns these volumes into unique and enchanting perspectives of surfing's cultural evolution unlike any you have ever seen before.
